

Our Relationship Policies

A living agreement between Trouble & Fungisai

	Trouble	Fungisai
Works at	Simbisa Brands	AAA Global
From	Zimbabwe	Zimbabwe

This document is a fun, living set of ground rules we've agreed on to keep our relationship healthy, respectful, and growing. It isn't legally binding — just something to look back on, laugh at, and revisit together.

1. Communication

- We talk things out instead of letting them build up — no silent treatment.
- If one of us is upset, we say so calmly rather than expecting the other to guess.
- Video/voice calls at least a few times a week when we're apart.
- We check in on each other's work day — Simbisa Brands and AAA Global both keep us busy.

2. Quality Time

- At least one proper date or outing together every month.
- Phones down during meals together.
- We make an effort to celebrate birthdays and anniversaries, even with busy schedules.

3. Honesty & Trust

- We tell each other the truth, even when it's uncomfortable.
- No snooping — trust is given, not policed.
- We introduce each other honestly to friends and family, no hiding the relationship.

4. Supporting Each Other's Goals

- We celebrate each other's wins at work, however small.
- We give each other space to grow individually — careers, hobbies, friendships.
- We check in on each other's goals and dreams, not just day-to-day life.

5. Conflict Resolution

- We fight fair — no name-calling, no bringing up old arguments unfairly.
- We take a short break to cool down if a conversation gets too heated, then come back to it.
- We aim to resolve disagreements within the same day where possible.

6. Our Roots

- We stay connected to our Zimbabwean roots and family, wherever life takes us.
- We keep each other's families informed and involved in major life decisions.

7. Future Planning

- We talk openly about long-term plans — career moves, finances, and where we want to live.
- Big decisions are made together, not unilaterally.

Agreed and signed with love,
